

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS
MARSHALL DIVISION

CORELOGIC SOLUTIONS, LLC,

Plaintiff,

v.

REDFIN CORPORATION,

Defendant.

Civil Action No. 2:12-cv-305-JRG-RSP

---

STIPULATION TO VOLUNTARILY DISMISS REDFIN CORPORATION, WITH PREJUDICE

Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 41(a)(1)(A)(ii) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Plaintiff CoreLogic Solutions, LLC (“CoreLogic”) and Defendant Redfin Corporation (“Redfin”) voluntarily stipulate to dismiss, with prejudice, all claims asserted by and between CoreLogic and Redfin in this action.

CoreLogic, on behalf of itself and any predecessors-in-interest and successors-in-interest to U.S. Patent No. 5,361,201 (“the ’201 Patent”), in consideration of the promises contained herein the sufficiency of which is acknowledged by CoreLogic, hereby unconditionally and irrevocably covenants and promises not to sue Redfin or its affiliates, subsidiaries, suppliers, customers, and/or related parties, for any infringement of any of the claims of the ’201 Patent arising from any past, present, or future acts, including, without limitation, direct infringement, contributory infringement and/or inducing infringement. Neither party has, or will be, obligated to provide any compensation or remuneration of any kind in connection with this action. This is the only agreement between the parties, be it in writing or otherwise.

Redfin agrees not to oppose any efforts by CoreLogic to terminate Redfin's "Covered Business Method Patent Review of U.S. Patent No. 5,361,201" (filed November 9, 2013 and instituted March 20, 2014; CBM2014-00027). The parties agree that this "Stipulation to Voluntarily Dismiss Redfin Corporation, with Prejudice" is an "Agreement in writing," as defined by 37 C.F.R. § 42.74(b). The parties further agree that this "Agreement in writing" shall not be the subject of a "Request to Keep separate" as defined by 37 C.F.R. § 42.74(c).

CoreLogic and Redfin will each bear their own costs, expenses and legal fees.
